ELIXIR GODINEAU

THE WORLD'S GREATEST TONIC.

Sensational Review by the Press in France

LE TEMPS.

The ELIXIR GODINEAU is now, constantly talked off by the press, it is the constant subject of the articles and the talk of town and country: it is a first class strengthening and restoring tonic of miraculous power.

L'AUTORITE.

The marvellous properties of the ELIXIR GODINEAU having been duly proved by various experiments, this powerful specific is now universally recommended as the best remedy against anaemia, tuberculosis and all cases of exhaustion of the organic system in general.

LE FIGARO.

To make gold, and find out the secret of ever lasting youth; such were the two problems which alchemists had tried to solve. The progress of science has shown the uselessness of the first, but it facilitated on the other hand, the working out of the second.

Following out the eminent professor's theories a Paris Chemist of high standing with the assistance of eminent practitioners has prepared the Elixir bearing his name the ELIXIR GODINEAU the effects of which are surprising.

LE MOT D'ORDRE.

Several truly marvellous cures effected by the ELIXIR GODINEAU and which have been echoed far and wide, have given this specific universal popularity. Henceforth anaemia, rachitis, paralysis, senile degeneration will cease to exist. The ELIXIR GODINEAU rapidly suppresses all these affections produced by partial or general exhaustion of the organic system.

L'EVENMENT.

The fairy tale of the fountain of youth is now a true and real fact; old age still scatters a few wrinkles on the face, a few snowy flakes in the hair, but it can no longer chill the hearts of men to whom the high-mettled spiritness of a youth of twenty years of age, is restored by the ELIXIR GODINEAU, one of the valuable conquests of modern science.

L'ECHO DE PARIS

The great success of the ELIXIR GODINEAU increases from day to-day, and is fully justified. This powerful specific restores health and vigour every day to numberless invalids whose cure was despaired of. All weakened or debilated organic systems are speedily strengthened after treatment with the ELIXIR GODINEAU, the effect of which is as sure as it is rapid. Sole Agents for India, Burma and Ceylon.

BEHULA

The story of how Goddess Mansha established her worship in the land,

MANSHA PUJA

or

The worship of the Goddess of Serpents, Directed and Produced by

MONSIEUR LEGRAND

GODDESS MANASHA, daughter of Mahadev, gets jealous of Goddess Chandi and wishes for people to worship her also.

MAHADEV advises Manasha to make Chand Saodagar her devotee and thus came about the debut of Manasha into the world.

MANASHA tries in various ways to convert Chand but fails and then uses her power as the Goddess of Serpents to change him.

FOILED in her attempts again, Manasha transforms into a serpent and kills all the sons of Chand.

STILL FRUITLESS, Manasha creates Manibhadra as an ally and plays havoc with the life of Lakhindra-son of Chand.

MANIBHADRA falls in love with Lakhindra and imprisons him in the serpent hill.

BEHULA, Daughter of Sadhu Banik loves Lakhindra and rescues him and then marries him.

Thus was brought a link in the forge when Manasha kills Lakhindra on his Nuptial night.

Though the curse that on her nuptial night she would see her husband's burial rite came true Behula determines to bring back her Husband's life.

FINANCE.

Conditions in the Money Market are unchanged. Banks are still well supplied with money. Call money is available at 1½ per cent and the rate for the fixed deposits is about 3 per cent for three or four months.

There was a sensational rise in the Sterling Exchange during the week and the rise was of fully one and a half pence. From 1/3½ the market advanced to 1s. 5d. The chief causes of the above rise were:—

1. The appearance of export bills in the Calcutta Market.
2. Very poor inquiry for remittances on account of decreasing imports.
3. Speculators having run amok as the monsoon is favourable and they expect a big rise in exchange.

It is believed the oversold position of the latter, both in Calcutta and Bombay, is estimated at about two millions sterling. At this level, there are no export bills offering and the market may very likely react.

Following the rapid rise in the Exchange Market, both the silver and the gold rates suffered a sharp decline. While silver in London continued firm and Shanghai rates were higher, the rates locally were weaker and a large business was done during the week. At the close the market is somewhat steady in the neighbourhood of Rs. 94.

Gold rates dropped to Rs. 28/15 for ready and Rs. 28/12 for forward. Firmer sterling was responsible for the heavy drop. Banks have again bought heavily for export to America and Japan.

The Shanghai on London rate is 3/9¼ per tael; Hongkong on London rate is 2/8¾ and the America on London rate is 3.66 5/8 easy.

SHARE MARKET.

The market was fairly steady throughout the week with a big turnover in cotton mill shares. The excitement centered round Bombay Dyeings, Nagpurs and Swadeshis. After a sharp drop of Rs. 150 in the rates of the latter two, there was a rally and the market closed distinctly steady.

In the miscellaneous section, there was nothing of importance done, except in Tata deferred shares which advanced rapidly to Rs. 690, but closed easy at Rs. 665. Existence of a heavy "bear" account gave appearance of strength to the market.

The following are the closing rates of the Bombay Stock Exchange:—

Ahmedabad Advance 2800, Apollo 110, Bombay Cotton 1410, Bombay Dyeing 1935, Century 1157/8, Central India 4760, Colaba Land 2990, Coorla 3000, Currimbhoy 2035, David 1785, Fazulbhoy 1680, Finlay 1315 xd, Kastoorchand 1700, Kohinoor 3700, M Petit 5200, Morarji 7300, New Great 1118, Pabani 1090, Pearls 1425, Simplex 1070, Swadeshi 5130 and Tata Mill 1670.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Alcock 845, Bombay Burma 580 xd, Bombay Burma N I 160 xd, Bundi Cement 49, Indian Cement 420, New India Insurance 27, Katni ord 297/8, Katni def 1500, Tata Iron ord 112/8, Tata Iron def 660, Tata new ord 102/8, Tata new def 580, Tata Hydro 1000, Tata Oil 132/8 and Scindia Steam 12.

PIECE-GOODS.

The cloth market has remained quiet during the past week. Holidays have intervened, but that has hardly made any difference, as the demand has been absent. The consumers seem to be giving their attention solely to Khadi cloths at the present moment, and when stocks of these are not available in sufficient quantity, preference is given to local mill cloths over foreign goods. Thus the stocks of foreign goods in the hands of dealers here have been lying idle, and as money is not forthcoming, considerable difficulty is being experienced in financing It will take considerable time before the goods, held by the importing firms, are cleared.

The steady rise in the rate of exchange, however is a hopeful sign, and if a substantial increase is established, it will no doubt help to relieve the tension between the Importing Firms and the merchants.

An easier tendency has been noticeable in Grey shirtings of Manchester make. Drills and Jaconets have declined to some extent. White mulls have been steady ewing to light stocks, but only a few transaction have resulted. Nainsooks have not attracted much attention. It is interesting to note that the cloth merchants of Bijapur, at a meeting held on the 15th instant, unanimoualy resolved not to book fresh orders for any kind of foreign cloth till the end of December 1921. On the other hand, a member of the Bombay Native Piece goods Merchants' association moved, at the general meeting of the members held on 13 instant, that in view of the present grave situation in the trade of foreign goods, the members of the said Association shall suspend giving fresh Indents and also the purchaso of ready goods till the 31st December uext. The resolution further stated that the meeting specially recommends the members to abide by this resolution for the sake of the prestige of the Association and the safety of the members. After some discussion the resolution was not passed, in as much as it was argued that all the members are so much aware of the enormous effect caused in the country by the Swadeshi propaganda and the merchants are themselves so cautious and alert to their interests, that it was hardly necessary for the Association to bind them by a resolution of the kind. It was also pointed out that this resolution was not brought in support of the boycott of foreign goods, but simply for the safety of the members who are still in difficulties In consequence of the exchange muddle, as after the resolution of 7th December 1920 was rescinded, the members who had bought goods from Manchester had not faired well.

With reference to the resolution of 22nd December 1920 regarding payment to be made only at two shillings exchange, it was brougt to the notico of the association that some dealers had settled matters with the Importing Firms, in contravention of this resolution. Enquiries were made by the committee appointed to deal with this question and some members had to pay the penalty of Rs. 51 for this default. Since then, a resolution was passed on the 22nd May 1921 confirming the above resolutiou, and in order to strengthen the same, it was decided to have an agreement drawn up by the Solicitors of the association, in which a penalty of Rs. 25,000 was provide and on which the members were to attach their signatures, From the very beginning it was evident that many of the members were not in favour of signing this agreement on account of the exorbitant penalty, and it was therefore decided that the question should be referred to the sub-associations for their opinion The opinions received were to the effect that the original resolution of 22nd December 1920 was quite in order, and that there was no need to bind the members by on agreementin view of the existing circumstances, all the members being bound to respect and abide by the resolutions passed by their association. It was therefore resolved by the general meeting of the association on the 13th instant to abandon the idea of taking signatures on the agreement, keeping the original resolution standing, whereby no member can make payments to the importing firms at exchange below two shilling and all the members are still under obligation to act accordingly.

It is of interest to note that the Manchester Chamber of Commerce, in reply to the telegram sent by the Delhi piece-goods association urging the settlement of all the Delhi contracts in a spirit of compromise, states that the association concerned must abandon the resolution before matters can be discussed.

COLOUR-MARKET.

August 19.

The market continues dull without significant business passing. The stockists are trying to un-load themselves offering concessions from the ruling rates in the bazzar. During the course of this week, Alizarine 20 per cent. had some fair demand and some business passed at about Rs. 150 per cent. Congo-Red has no robust demand and rates quoted very between Rs. 3-4 to 3-12 per lb. Owing to the lower values of Congo-Red the values of Benzo-Purpurine and Delta Purpurine are also affected. Miscellaneous Colours have no important fluctuations and small transactions are reported. The tone is poor and there are no immediate prospects of improvement.

CHEMICALS-MARKET.

Aug. 19.

The market has been comparatively very dull, and the volume of business transacted is also very poor. The prices both local and Home have shown distinct tendency to decline, and the competition of German Chemicals has been getting keener and keener daily. The forward quotations from Germany have been easier still, which has given a general fall in the Bazar rates.

Sodium Sulphide was quoted at Rs. 28, Zinc Chloride also in sympathy fell by two or three rupees per cwt. Bleaching Powder had rather poor doing this week. Caustic Soda, Bichromate of Soda and Potash kept steady. Aniline Salt is reported to have changed hands at less than one rupee per lb.

Sizing starches are comparatively steadier. Sago is quoted at Rs. 13-8; Farina K and Dutch are more in demand, especially due to the scarcity which is felt in the market at the present moment. Maize starch is reported to have been easy in forward quotations. China Clay Hytra Brand is still in demand, the rate quoted varying from Rs. 160 to Rs. 190 per ton.

KHILAFAT WORKERS AND REPRESSION.

TO THE EDITOR OF "THE CHRONICLE."

Sir,—Kindly publish the following in your esteemed paper:—

The Central Khilafat Committee has received news of the arrest of Messrs. Akhtar Ali Khan and Ghulam Qadir Khan, son and cousin respectively, of Maulana Zafar Ali Khan Sahib, who fell victim to unwarranted religious persecution at an early period of Khilafat agitation. Now his worthy son and cousin have been called upon to face a great test and trial for their religious convictions. Syed Habib Editor of "Siasat" has also gone to prison for the same cause. We offer our congratulation to Messrs. Akhtar Ali Khan, Ghulam Qadir Khan and Syed Habib and the members of their families coupled with our heartfelt sympathy.

We have learnt that security of "Zamindar" has also been confiscated. All this religious persecution of sending Ulemas journalists and Khilafat workers to prison and confiscating religious literature is the result of the repressive policy adopted by the Government of India whose claim of being in sympathy with and acting as champion for the Khilafat cause in relation to the British Government in face of such a policy stands entirely discredited. Such great and religious movements in the history of the world have never been stopped by persecution and, therefore, we are bound to succeed in the end.—Yours, etc.

Mr. Naik urged that whereas the educated members of the different communities in Kanara should rightly devote their time and money for the educational advancement of their respective communities; they should also try to study the educational problems of the District as a whole and cooperate to devise means and measures for securing the educational progress of the mass of people throughout the length and breadth of the district. He sugested for the purpose the formation of a Kanara People's Educational Conference Association, which should among other things cooperate with Government Educational Department in Kanara in starting both English and Vernacular Schools in the District, should hold an annual Educational Conference in Kanara, encourage the education of Kanara boys and girls by giving to them prizes and scholarship, aid different communial organizations by advice and pecuniary grants, and hold special periodical meetings of the depressed and other classes for stimulating them with the enthusiasm for educational progress.

Speaking about social reform in Kanara Mr. Naik was emphatic in pointing out that the social reform and social intigration could and should be brought about not by hatred between different communities and castes, but by mutual love and mutual regard between the members of different castes and creeds. He urged that Brahmins should love non-Brahmins, Hindus, Christians, and Mussalmans.

ECHO OF BANDRA DEFAMATION CASE:

From the proceedings of the Bandra Defamation Case in the Court of the Resident Magistrate, Bandra, in which Miss Lilly Paul was the complainant and Munchershaw D. B. This matter ultimately came before the Appellate Side of the Court of Bombay where the Chief Justice in confirming the conviction and sentence in the case of Wadia observed that he ought to consider himself fortunate that he was let off with a final while he deserved imprisonment.

The case against Mr. Chowksey is now proceeding in the Bandra Resident Magistrate's Court.

Mr. Bertie Vallis, Solicitor, assisted by Mr. Joshi, pleader, is appearing for the complainant while Mr. Vicaji Bar at-Law is defending the accused.

BOMBAY AMUSEMENTS.

THE EXCELSIOR.

Those who find an hour hanging heavily before dinner in the Fort will find that it can be pleasantly filled by a visit to the Excelsior, where an attractive cinema programme is added to the season of the Bandman Comedy Company. There they will find the usual topical film and the usual comedy, and there is in addition a film with a moral for some and interest for all. "The Man of Honour" is the title. It has a special interest for Bombay, for it tells of an effort to run a bogus company. The man who was trying to run it ran into four weather, and it was "the man of honour" who came to his rescue. He was in love with the company promoter's daughter. He was also mixed up with the company, until he discovered what sort of a show it was, and then he quitted. Then the daughter, poking about in his garden, ran across some along hidden treasure. It was more than enough for all. But "the man of honour", being a man of honour, insisted that the lady should have the lot, and as the lady would do nothing of the kind there was only one thing for it, and that was to divide it in matrimony. And so they married, and the bogus company promoter repented of his sins now that there was no longer any need to commit any and turned over a new leaf in which the bogus company flourished by some strange mischance in a perfectly legitimate way. Harold Lockwood is in the leading role in this film.

THE EMPRESS.

At the Empress this week there is another of those Indian films produced by Messrs. Madan which are becoming increasingly popular. "Behula" is a film in seven parts which tells the story of how Manasha, the Goddess of the Serpents, established her worship in the land and included in the cast engaged for the production of the film are a number of supersized cobras. It is described as a photoplay of intense heart interest and gripping sensations, and—into tragic episodes of a startling character there is interwoven a thrilling love story, with an intensely dramatic climax. We are shown how the Goddess Manasha comes into the world as a serpent, jealous of the power of a sister Goddess and desirous of homage herself from the people; how she kills all the sons of her rival; and how in the end her schemings are totally defeated. It is described as one of the best films which Messrs. Madan have yet produced, and acting, setting, and the interest in the development of the story leave very little to be desired. "Behula" will be shown for one week only.

THE EMPIRE.

"Their Compact", the drama which is this week being shown at the Empire, features Francis Bushman and Beverley Bayne. It is a tale of the very wild and very woolly west, where cowboys whip revolvers out of their hip pockets at the slightest provocation and bucking broncbos climb precipices with riders hanging on by their eyelashes. Into this scene their arrived Jack Moore, accompanied by his valet. Was he a tenderfoot? He looked it. But the village bully soon found that he wasn't. He stuck to his gold mine in spite of threats, and what is worse he fell in love with the innkeeper's daughter. Then there appeared on the scene another old flame—married—and then the fun began. The two made a compact. One kept it and the other didn't. That caused complications. Then we see that revolvers are not all show; indeed, they are sometimes dangerous, and a few people are killed before we reach the end of it, and Jack marries his loved one of the village. It seems to be a film with no end of action, and in these dull days, perhaps, a film of that sort is not unwelcome.

IMPERIAL.

"I swore then that some day, somewhere, somehow, I'd make you pay, and I've done it in the only way it would touch your rotten soul I've made you a beggar!"

It was true! John Hargrave, to satisfy his Oath of Vengean made when a lad at his mother's grave, had ruined Roger Winton. For eighteen years he had woked and slaved to that end, and now he had broken his enemy. But he had only robbed his enemy of money, whereas his own greed for gold had robbed him of love, without which he was only a beggar in purple. The luxurious and magnificence his wealth could buy were as naught beside the love he craved and did not have for he learned that the woman he loved was only bright, glittering tinsel. She was marrying his money because she was a creature of luxury she longed for money even as he had. Then misfortune come to him, and he found a true love that worked a miracle and brought the first real happiness and content he had ever known.

Such is the charming romance told in "A Beggar in Purple" Pathe photoplay, showing to-day at the Imperial Cinema. It is an adaptation of the novel by Andrew Soutar, include the programme Pathe Gazette and Pollard Comic.

WEST END CINEMA.

The management of the West End Cinema have put on boards a perfectly charming social story entitled "The Wasp." The film stars Kitty Gordon, the popular screen beauty, who plays the head strong girl with a verve and spirit that is delightful to watch. A young lady, destined to marry well, is somewhat stingy in her attitude towards would-be suitors, and is consequently dubbed with the not very complimentary pseudonym "The Wasp." But at last a young man proves her equal. He is a chauffeur—someone eligible of course, in disguise—and it is the usual old story!

GLOBE CINEMA.

Messrs. K. D. and Brothers at the Globe have this week hit upon a Swadeshi film, not a mythological story this time, but a social subject, pure and simple. It is a six-reel comedy full of hilarious fun with the somewhat amusing title "England Returned." A young Indian returns to his native land after a long absence and is so mightily impressed with his Vilayti training that at his parental home, he startles everybody with his quixotic notions of Love and Matrimony. The picture is an all-Indian one, with Indian well-known actors and actresses for the cast.

G. I. P. WORKSHOP STRIKE.

SUPDTS. NOTICE

The strikers of the G. I. P. Railway workshops came to the works yesterday morning as usual, but they found the following notice on the gates over the signature of Mr. J. M. D. Wrench, the Loco Superintendent:—

"Owing to the destruction of the Time Office which took place during the disturbance on August 17, the Locomotive Workshops of the G. I. P. Railway will remain closed until further notice."

The men dispersed quietly after reading the notice.

In the morning there was a meeting when Messrs. Jhabwalla and Ginwalla addressed the men. The former said that if the men wished the shop to be opened as early as possible they should repair it. This was not agreeable to the men. The works are now being guarded by the police.

SPORTING NEWS.

TO-DAY'S POONA RACES.

SELECTIONS BY "JOVE."

THE LANSDOWNE PLATE. Distance 1½ Miles (Div. I.)

CLAIM A and RAMADAN are in the same stable. From the way the former won last week he would have been hard to beat. The fact that he is taken out points to RAMADAN who was well backed the first time out. Of the others ARCHER is a real stayer and so is BEGGAR PRINCE and I think the race should be between these two if RAMADAN can't stay.

THE LANSDOWNE PLATE. (Div. II.) Distance 1½ Miles

The best handicapped horse in this looks to be FLOTELLE and he will be hard to beat. MILLMOUNT has shown his best form over 1½ miles and should be close up. MARCODIA in spite of his weight should not lose a place.

THE YERROWDA PLATE. Distance 5 Furlongs.

From the easy way in which both BELLE SYME and MIMI have won recently this should be a match between these two with a preference for BELLE SYME.

CRUSHED GLASS or WOORALI in case of absentees.

THE BANGALORE PLATE Distance 1 Mile.

This looks a good thing for STEEL BLUE in spite of his weight. From his running on the first day I think BLACK STONE will put up a decent show if he has the services of someone better than his last rider—SUGAR CANE cannot lose a place.

THE MAHABLESHWAR PLATE. Distance 6 Furlongs.

Should LIBERTY go in this race I think she will have a big chance—Failing her starting I like CARAWAY—VALLANCE, if fit, will shake them all up.

THE CHELTENHAM STEEPLE CHASE. COUNT HANNIBAL I like best with ELHAN VALLEY and DAROJI II to follow him home.

THE MATHERAN PLATE. Distance 7 Furlongs.

HONEST BEAUTY looks the best of this lot. ROSE HILL I think will find the distance a trifle short or would be very dangerous. HUNTSMAN too likes a distance but in spite of this should not lose a place.

THE HADAPSUR PLATE. Distance 1¼ Miles.

If DOMINEER starts here he will be very hard to beat. KITCHENER will find the distance more to his liking than last time and must run well. HAKUM has apparently gone off or would be very close up. FERRY BOAT the upset.

THE MUNITIONS MUDDLE.

TO THE EDITOR OF "THE CHRONICLE."

Sir,—In your issue of the 18th instant, under the heading "Justice Besmirched," you, in the course of your masterly criticism, enquired: "Is it true that Sir Thomas Holland, Member, Board of Industries, is entirely responsible for the instructions given to the Government Counsel to withdraw the charges" framed against the individuals connected with what is now known as the "Munitions Board Scandal." In a message of the A. P. published in your columns of date, it is announced that the Secretary of State replied to a question in the House of Comons put by Col. Ashley, that "Sir Thomas Holland member of the Viceroy's Executive Council in charge of the munitions, authorised the withdrawal of the case on his responsibility, after consultaation with some of his own colleagues but not with the Viceroy." We are extremely glad that the knot of mystery has been at last cut, and the official connected with the scandal divulged; but it is not stated the names of the colleagues with whom whom our friend Sir Thomas consulted and who had the stupidity to approve his proposals. I, for one, do not, for a moment, believe that our "cooperators" with a sense of British-Justice,", who utilised the Montford Scheme of Reforms, for entering the highest Council Chambers, would have dared even to afford the least chance of its being given a cursory glance. However, the truth at last has come out; and this public prostitution of justice on which the very foundation of a good government rests, especially the British Government, has been lowered in the eyes of the Indian people much more than our great revered leader Mahatma Gandhi desired, consciously or unconsciously, by Sir Thomas Holland's action in withdrawing the case against the accused. And now, Sir, can we expect from a Government which represes the Indian opinion, however Moderate, the immediate dismissal of Sir Thomas Holland and his associates if any. Would such a scandal have been allowed under a Government of India, by Indians? These questions are for the Moderate enthusiasts to answer, for the majority of the Indians lost faith in the British justice two years ago when that massacre of men, women, and children at Amritsar was perpetrated by the gallant General Dyer. On this occasion, however, there will be no two opinions on the action of Sir Thomas Holland and the future of the wealth and prosperity of India will largely depend on the way in which the public rise to the occasion.— Yours, etc.

THE BOMBAY CHRONICLE.

KENYA—THE KEY.

Mr. Montagu appears to recognise that Kenya is really the key of the whole situation regarding the position of Indians in the Dominions and Crown Colonies. But we doubt if he realises that a solution adverse to Indian claims will spell the doom of the Imperial idea so far as India is concerned. To Indians, Kenya is the acid test not only of British sympathy with their aspirations to live a free and honourable life, but also of the power of Britain to shield them from oppression and servitude. If the British Flag is unable to afford Indians such protection, will Pax Britannica have any meaning for them or continue to inspire them with sentiments of devotion and loyalty? So, we say, Kenya lies at the parting of the ways for India. The "Empire" will exist or cease to be for Indians as their right to equal citizenship is given or denied to them by His Majesty's Government. Regarding South Africa, Mr. Montagu's regret that that country could not see its way to recognise the right of Indians to equal status with the Whites, must appear to be genuine. In the reference of the question to settlement by direct negotiations between the two countries Mr. Montagu, like ourselves, recognises that this course is an improvement on the method hitherto followed. We realise that the new course implies, in a way, that His Majesty's Government are either unwilling or unable themselves to redress the grievances of the people of this country. But we are firmly convinced that if the Government of India are true to themselves and to the people, they can, and should be able to, maintain their ground against the South African Union. It is our sincere conviction that but for the weak-knee-ed policy of the Government of India hitherto, a satisfactory solution of the problem would have been arrived at long ago.

One of our contemporaries has blamed us for welcoming direct negotiations between a self-governing Dominion like the South African Union and a non-self-governing "Dominion" like India and has also pointed out that the resolutions regarding the status of Indians in the self-governing Colonies, adopted by the Imperial Conference, relate exclusively to Indians domiciled in those Colonies and that there is no reference in the resolutions to the removal of restrictions on educated Indians going to, settling and owning land in the colonies. We agree with our contemporary that the resolutions relate exclusively to domiciled Indians and leave out of consideration Indians who may be temporarily settled in the Colony. The resolutions deal with two primary questions, those of restriction of immigration and of the status of domiciled Indians. As the resolutions stand, it seems as if a distinction has been deliberately sought to be made between Indians naturalised in the Colony and those who may be temporarily living in it. However that may be, we defined our attitude in an unmistakable manner regarding both these questions. We wrote last week:—

"India will have no objection to any member of the Empire enjoying complete control over the composition of its own population by restricting immigration from any other communities, provided that the right of India also to control the composition of her own population in a similar manner is recognised by the other members of the Empire and provided also that no sort of racial discrimination is made by any of the Dominions, reflecting adversely on the status or honour of Indians as a nation. It would be preferable, of course, that the movements of British citizens, of whatever race or creed, should be left unfettered throughout the Empire and that there should be the same common brotherhood of the Empire as there was under the Roman Empire in respect of all free citizens. But if this ideal is unattainable at present, each member of the British Empire should be left free to protect its nationals abroad in the most effective way it can think of, with due regard to the right of other members to do likewise."

We maintain that the decision to leave the question to be settled by direct negotiations between India and the refractory Colony has brought us nearer the solution, despite the fact that the right of full citizenship for all Indians whether domiciled or not, in every part of the Empire, is not recognised. Our contemporary is putting the cart before the horse when it says that "the only way of improving India's status is to improve that of Indians in the Empire." On the other hand, it is our firm conviction that Indians' status in the Empire will never be really improved till India wins the status of a full self-governing country. As Mr. V. J. Patel observed at last Saturday's meeting at the Excelsior Theatre, "unless India herself is a self-governing part of the Empire she cannot enforce her terms on the other partners." Whatever protection His Majesty's Government may extend to one member of the Empire against the injustice of another, can never be as effective as the self-help which the aggrieved member can exercise in its own behalf. Therefore, we say that if the Government of India is true to India, it should be able to wrest from the South African Government recognition of the just rights of its nationals. Whatever the Government of Lord Reading may or may not do, India is determined to be free and as soon as she is free, she will know how to safeguard the interests of her people in the Empire. For, she realises that if her people wish to be respected outside their country, whether in the British Empire or anywhere else, they must see that they become masters in their own house as soon as possible.

WELL DONE, LAHORE!

All India will congratulate the municipal councillors of Lahore on the courage they have shown in calling a spade a spade and refusing on their own behalf as well as on behalf of the citizens to participate in the ceremonies connected with the Prince of Wales' visit—ceremonies, which, in the absence of redress of the Punjab and Khilafat wrongs, would be to them as to their countrymen in other parts of the country a heartless mockery. Those who expect the citizens of Lahore or Amritsar to put on smiling faces and join in the rejoicings on the occasion of the Prince's visit, while yet the wound in their heart is unhealed, must be either hypocrites or extremely callous. The city fathers of Lahore have frankly told the world the reasons why they and those whom they represent feel unable to participate in the welcome to the Prince and the ceremonies connected therewith. They declare that they entertain no personal feelings of disrespect towards the Prince. But they feel convinced that, far from being non-political as the visit is represented to be, it is being deliberately exploited by the bureaucracy for its own political ends. The "Civil and Military Gazette," the mouthpiece of the local bureaucracy, which is grinding its teeth and tearing its hair in uncontrollable fury at the decision of the Lahore Municipal Committee, remarks that the Prince had no more to do with the policy of the Punjab Government in 1919 than a visitor from Mars. Let us admit that this is so, but if the "Gazette" believes that the evil effects of that policy still persist, and that the present Government too refuse to heal the wound, are not the people of the Punjab justified in refusing to join in the celebrations in honour of the Prince's visit, when they are so sore at heart? If the Prince's visit is truly non-political, why can it not be postponed to more propitious times; and why does the bureaucracy persist in "fiddling while Rome is burning?" The people of this country will certainly be glad to welcome the Prince when the Punjab and Khilafat wrongs have been redressed and when the just aspirations of the people are fulfilled and they can truly rejoice. The "Gazette," in its wrath, has suggested to Government to take steps to suppress the Lahore Municipality—which it is pleased to describe as a "soviet in disguise." We do not suppose that the Punjab Government will, for a moment, listen to this counsel of madness. Lahore has set an example to the cities of the land,

Notes of the Day.

Mr. Lloyd George's Pledges.

Mr. Lloyd George's extreme solicitude for the safety of the "spoils of victory" of his Hellenic friends again manifested itself in the House of Commons on Wednesday, but it is evident from his latest speech that he has seen the folly of his earlier bluster. He, therefore, preferred to lie "low" and did not speak any more of "tearing up" the Treaty of Sevres and of its no longer being in existence, but only talked of the likelihood of its having to be "reconsidered." He also refrained from dwelling on the right of the Greeks as "victors" to retain their "spoils of victory." On the other hand, Mr. George as "a sincere friend" of Greece, "earnestly trusted that Greek statesmanship" would not repeat "the unpardonable error" of grabbing more than they possibly can retain in their grasp—which would "certainly end in disaster for Greece." We should like to know one thing from Mr. Lloyd George. He spoke the other day of the Treaty of Sevres having been "torn up" by the Allies. Which is this Treaty he speaks of? It cannot certainly be the original Treaty to which the Allies, including Great Britain, and Turkey (albeit at the point of the bayonet) had put their signatures. That Treaty cannot cease to exist because of a quarrel between one of the signatories, i.e., Greece and the Angora Government, who were no party to the Treaty. But if Mr. George referred to the draft Treaty at the London Conference, he and his brother "statesmen" are welcome to tear it up as it was a document of which neither the Greeks nor the Turkish Nationalists approved. But whether it is the original treaty or its revision that Mr. George is bent on tearing up, he cannot "tear up" the solemn pledges he gave in the name of his country, to the entire Muslim world and to the Indian Mussalmans in particular.

H. M. G.

Mr. Montagu's reply to questions put to him in the House of Commons on the subject of the munitions trial at Calcutta leaves no doubt whatever in the public mind that Sir Thomas Holland authorised the withdrawal of the case "on his own responsibility." Mr. Montagu has been informed that Sir Thomas Holland had before taking the step consulted some of his own colleagues but not the Viceroy. The statement issued from the Viceroy's camp shows that these were his colleagues of the Executive Council. If so, it would be pertinent to enquire who were these colleagues and whether the Law Member of the Government of India was one of those whom Sir Thomas Holland took into his confidence. In any case it seems to us obvious that in assuming single-handed the authority of the "Government of India" or the purpose of withdrawing of the case the Member for Commerce and Industries exceeded his powers. Even if it was quite within his competence to authorise the dropping of the prosecution—which we do not believe it was—we think it was clearly the duty of Sir Thomas Holland, having regard to the gravity of the issues involved in the step he was taking, to consult all his colleagues, and his chief the Viceroy. His failure to do so cannot but be regarded as a very grave dereliction of duty. It seems inexplicable that aperson in the position of Sir Thomas Holland should not have realised that the reputation not merely of his own Department but also of the whole administration of the country was involved in his degradation of justice. It is reassuring to find that Mr. Montagu at least realises the seriousness of the situation. But the communique issued by Lord Reading is very disappointing. The new pleas advanced in justification of Sir Thomas Holland's action are no less unconvincing and unfortunate than those previously published. And Lord Reading can hardly expect the public seriously to consider the excuse that Sir Thomas Holland has been overworked. Drastic measures must be taken against those who have tarnished the name of the country in the eyes of the world. Merely to dispense with the services of those responsible for this atrocious scandal is too mild a measure. They deserve to be impeached.

Trade Rivalry in Transport.

The Deck Passengers' Committee, was, because of its fundamental misconception of its function, bound to take the view that if its recommendations lost sight of the powers of the capitalist ship-owners, if it overlooked the pressure of private greed in its zeal for public good, it ran the risk of having its recommendations put out of court by the self styled practical statesmen of Simla. It thus seemed to feel that it had no alternative but to recommend:—

"These witnesses expressed the opinion that if the certainty of a rate war could be removed by means of the prescription of minimum fare, plenty of new capital would be forthcoming for new shipping ventures and the ensuing competition would, of itself, lead without an increase in the fare, to improvement in the amenities provided for the deck passengers. The Committee are averse from (sic) recommending more than the minimum intervention in the shipping trade; but realise that Government is closely concerned to see that fares remain low in areas that depend on deck-passengers for their development . . . and further that the sale of facilities for carrying human beings stands on a different footing from the sale of commodities for consumption. The carriage of passengers by sea is indeed essentially a service in which the public control may justifiably exceed that imposed on an ordinary business."

We are astonished at the hardihood of the Committee in attempting to lay down an utterly inapplicable law about the limits of public control in private enterprise. If it acknowledges the force of competition in automatically improving the "amenities" of this traffic, we fail to see why it should be squeamish in endeavouring to secure equal conditions for Indian as well as European capital, for new as well as old ventures, for the B. I. S. N. Co. as well as, say, for the Scindia Steam Navigation Co. The captains of industry in India are, it must be admitted, unpardonably conservative and inexplicably nervous of venturing into new fields of industrial and commercial enterprise. The business of transport is one of the key industries which no nation, with any industrial ambitions to speak of, can afford to neglect. And yet we have in India the whole of our transport industry—by land or by sea—a foreign monopoly. We owe it to the Rangoon representative of the only considerable Indian shipping concern, that the committee had before it at all any concrete, constructive definite proposals for an alternative Indian scheme. The representative is naturally apprehensive of the fortunes of his company should it enter the lists, unaided, unarmed, inexperienced, against the professional gladiators of the prevailing type. He, therefore, argues for a guarantee of minimum fare—not in the interests of the share-holders but rather with a view to secure a fair and free competition.

Scindia Steam Navigation Co.

Granted those conditions of initial equality, granted an equipoise against the force and momentum of old-established concerns; granted a line of marginal efficiency, there is no reason to believe that Indian capital, Indian enterprise and Indian personnel cannot make headway against all the other risks of the trade. The case of Government intervention whether by way of fixing the minimum fare or by subsidies as in Japan or by mail contracts and other preferential treatment, does not rest merely on the possibility of what Prof. Marshall would describe as the "internal economies" of this business. It is admittedly a trade of a particularly risky nature, open only during certain portions of the year. At the same time it is a line of business which can bring to, or withhold from, us our absolute necessaries of life and industry and as such we cannot possibly suffer it to be left to the anarchy of unrestricted competition. We should commend the device of a minimum fare if at the same time the converse were adopted and enforced, i. e., the State were empowered to lay down a maximum when by combination or syndication amongst themselves, the shipowners exact an unjust toll from the community. We should welcome a policy of subsidies provided that we found a recognition of the principles of the Merchant Shipping Acts. We should, in fine, support every device for the special encouragement of such a key industry if it originated, operated and developed in the real interests of the nation. In the circumstances, we put it to the Directors of the only important Indian Shipping concern whether, in view of the vast national interests involved, they should refuse to consider exclusively the narrow interests of a powerful and rich section of shareholders by reducing their capital and thereby diminishing their reserve of power, to put up a long, strong fight for national interests in the matter of transport. Exception has been taken to the proposal to pay back a vast sum of money in the shape of Rs. 45 per share to owners of shares issued as fully paid up The payment will be proper in the case of those shareholders who were not directly interested in the sale of the "Loyalty" But in the circumstances of the case the Directors of the Company will do well to recognise the wisdom of fully satisfying the shareholders of its propriety as well as legality before such payment is made to those shareholders who were so interested.

Indian Olympic Association.

The sporting public of the country was sorely disappointed by the poor achievements of the Indian representatives at the Olympic Games held at Antwerp last year. If the past could be any guide for the future there was every justification for entertaining high expectations of the Indian athletes. Mr. Chaugule of Belgaum, for instance, who was one of the Indian representatives at Antwerp has to his credit a brilliant record of having run the Marathon race of 27 miles held at Poona in November 1919 in 2 hrs. 36 mins. and 54s. while the Olympic record for 25 miles stood at 2 hrs. 49m. and 58.6s. The treatment accorded to the Indian athletes by the Secretaries of the team at London and Antwerp was alleged to have been mainly responsible for this failure. The Indian Olympic Association has taken the right course, in the circumstances of instituting an inquiry into the allegations some of which are admittedly of a serious nature. The inquiry committee has submitted a lengthy report covering over 70 pages and dealing with the grievances of the athletes in detail. It is not easy to say precisely how far the behaviour either of the athletes or the secretaries is reprehensible. But it is regrettable to note that the relations of the secretaries and the athletes were far from satisfactory. If the secretaries were responsible for lack of sympathetic interest in the affairs of those committed to their care, some of the athletes were found wanting in the sportsman-like behaviour and discipline that the occasion demanded. The complaint regarding underfeeding seems to have been the result of a misunderstanding between the two parties. The athletes considered that an athlete to keep fit requires ample, rich and fatty food while the secretaries held that food should be strictly regulated. The report, it appears to us, has tried to explain away the monetary claims advanced by the athletes based on the allegation that they (athletes) were required to spend money out of their pocket to supplement the rations provided for them by the secretaries as these were found insufficient to keep them fit. We sincerely hope that the Indian Olympic Association will profit by this experience.

"NOT GOING TO BE FOOLED THIS TIME."

MR. DE VALERA'S STATEMENT.

SENSATIONAL SPEECH IN DAIL EIREANN.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Aug. 17.
Recd. 9-30 a.m., Aug. 19.

Dublin.—The Dail Eirean was again packed to-day in anticipation on Mr De Valera's promise to outline the course of the Peace negotiations. At the outset Mr. De Valera caused a sensation by declaring that the reports in the British and Foreign Press indicated there was doubt in the minds of the world with regard to the Irish attitude towards the British terms. "There ought not to be any doubt," said Mr. De Valera "We cannot and we won't accept the terms. The Irish people are not going to be fooled this time." (Cheers) He added that the obvious thing to do was to end the rule which the Irish people hates to the marrow of their bones. If they had to resort to force they would do so without seeking to save their forces. The Irish people had not flinched before and they would not flinch now, because more arms had been sent for. Mr. De Valera sat down amid a scene of intense excitement.

Briand then elaborated the French standpoint with regard to the division and what the industrial region comprehended and showed how disagreement arose regarding the question of divisibility of the industrial region. LUCKNOW UNIVERSITY.

CHANGES IN ITS CONSTITUTION.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

LUCKNOW, Aug. 19.

Principal Cameron of the Canning College in the course of an interesting lecture on the Nature and Significance of the changes embodied in the Constitution of the Lucknow University, pointed out the defects found by the Calcutta University Commission in the University education hitherto imparted in India, and explained the advantages of a unitary University, as the Lucknow University with all its organisations centred close around its Convocation Hall. After mentioning the advantages of tutorial system and residential arrangements, Principal Cameron addressing the staff, asked them to study the report of the Calcutta University Commission and said that a complete agreement in respect of details was less important than sympathetic appreciation of the spirit in which the reforms were conceived, which would bring in the place of more perplexity and dislike of change an inspiring vision of new possibilities under the reformed constitution of the University of Lucknow.

MUNITIONS CASE

WHY WAS IT WITHDRAWN?

OFFICIAL STATEMENT.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

VICEROY'S CAMP, Nainital, Aug. 19.

The following communique is issued:—

The following is the text of statement circulated with an official report of the proceedings of the House of Commons on the 16th August:—

Four persons were accused in the court of the Chief Presidency Magistrate of Calcutta of conspiring to cheat Government over the supply during the war-time of wire rope of the value of approximately rupees 1 lakh. Their names were Mr. Karnani, a prominent banker, Mr. J. C. Bannerji, a contractor, Mr. White, former Deputy Controller of Munitions, Bengal Circle, and Mr. Stringer, a subordinate official.

As the result of the prosecution there were serious withdrawals of deposits in the Karnani Bank which endangered its stability. Sir Thomas Holland received information at Calcutta that if the prosecution was continued the bank would fail and it would involve the ruin of more than 120 industrial concerns which the Karnani Bank financed. Before that there had already been public agitation of which (?) the implication was that the Government in prosecuting these persons designed to destroy the credit of a new industrial bank actively engaged in financing the Indian industries. There was the danger of a great intensification of the agitation so as to cause racial ill-feeling if in consequence of the continuance of the case several industries concerns had collapsed as seemed to be certain to result.

Besides this although the Government's legal advisers considered the case for the prosecution sound and the evidence trustworthy they also pointed out that the accused would be committed for trial to the High Court, that the trial would not be finished for many months and that it was doubtful whether a jury in a complicated case of this character would convict. It is certain that the defence would have made a point with the jury of the public benefactions made by Mr. Karnani during the war. Thus, on the one hand, a conviction would seriously affect one section of the public, on the other hand, a long trial followed by a failure to secure a conviction from the jury would have similar disastrous results and would appear to justify the feeling of bitterness and intensify it and give rise to attacks on the Government on the ground that the public funds had been unnecessarily wasted in the prosecution.

WITHDRAWAL OF CASE.

Sir Thomas Holland for these reasons thought it wisest to withdraw the prosecution. Before reaching the decision he had consulted the members of the Government already familiar with the facts, but not the Viceroy who states that he would not have consented to the case being withdrawn upon the ground stated by the Advocate-General. In the Court the Advocate-General made a statement of the charges in order to establish the fact that the Government were justified in launching the prosecution. The only ground for withdrawal which he stated in the Court was that a network of industrial and commercial interests would be endangered. The terms of the statement made by the Advocate-General were not known to Government who were not consulted about the withdrawal till they appeared in the press. It should be explained that certain civil claims had been made for about rupees 3 lakhs on account of the supply of munitions by Mr. Karnani. Prosecution withdrawn has no connection with the charges against Blackburn and Michael of Spalding and Company whose extradition from England was obtained last March and who are now under trial in Calcutta though Waite is accused in that case also. Sir Thomas Holland accepts the entire responsibility for the action taken.

His Excellency the Viceroy states in an explanation of the failure to consult him that Sir Thomas Holland has been very gravely overworked and has been in charge of Sir George Barnes' portfolio in addition to his own since the latter left India and that means were being sought to relieve the pressure on him before this occurred. He was approached by many people influential in business and public, but he informed them that the Government would not consider such a withdrawal so long as these civil cases were threatened. Mr. Karnani subsequently withdrew these claims unconditionally. Sir Thomas Holland then took up the question of withdrawing the prosecution and decided, as above stated. Of the accused, Waite is on bail in England and is said to be dangerously ill. The charges against him stand good, but the (case against ?) the subordinate Stringer has been withdrawn.

QUESTION IN COMMONS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Mr. Montagu further replying to Col. Ashley further said:—

Viceroy's Camp, TALLITA, Aug. 18.

As soon as I am in possession of the replies they will be brought before His Majesty's Government who will consider what action if any, may be necessary. I trust the House will not desire to press the matter further, until full information has been obtained.

Colonel Ashley then asked the Secretary of State for India whether he might assume that the action had not the approval, as at present advised, of His Majesty's formal sanction. To this the Secretary of State replied the Viceroy had already expressed his disapproval of the action taken.

Colonel Burn next asked the Secretary of State for India whether in the case of a European who is also implicated in the speculations referred to, the charge against him would also be withdrawn to which the Secretary of State replied:—I hope my Hon. and gallant friend will appreciate that two wrongs do not make a right, but I would urge that no further questions be asked at this juncture. Sir Thomas Holland is a member of the Government of India and has earned the widest respect and confidence by his services up to the present time, and I want to be able to furnish the House of Commons with his own answer.

C. P. PLEADERS' EXPLANATION.

WHY THEY SUSPENDED PRACTICE.

IS IT COMPATIBLE WITH OATH OF ALLEGIANCE?

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

NAGPUR, Aug. 19.

The Sessions Judge, of Nagpur was busy to-day in recording the statements of the legal practitioners enquiring from them whether they suspended their practice on account of non-cooperation movement and whether active participation in non-cooperation movement is compatible with the undertaking given in declaration of the oath of allegiance.

All legal practitioners made their statement that they suspended their practice in obedience of the Congress resolution affecting the pleaders. Mr. V. V. Kelkar and a few others disputed the right that they could be asked to make any such statement. As regards the oath of allegiance Mr. Mohammed Camiullah Khan added that all such declarations in his case are subordinate to his "Eeman" that is, his allegiance is to his God and his Prophet and as such he is bound to disregard anything that conflicts with his "Eeman".

Mr. Narayanrao T. Baidya added that times have very much changed and if the oath of allegiance in any form or other is wanted the present form will have to be changed to suit the present circumstances, otherwise no self-respecting gentleman will parctice in any British Courts. As regards the question of oath of allegiance all pleaders disputed and differed from the view taken by the judges but avoided discussion at present.

TASK BEFORE US.

PANDIT MALVIYAJI'S LECTURE.

WOMAN'S RESPONSIBILITY.

Pandit M. Malaviya resumed his address on "The Task Before Us" on Friday evening at 6-30 p.m. in the Empire Theatre before a large and representative gathering. Mr. C. M. Cursetji introduced the speaker in absence of the Chairman, Sir G. K. Parekh, who was a little late. Again the audience demonstrated hostile attitude towards Mr. Jamnadas Dwarkadas, who was received with vociferous shouts of "Shame, Go out, etc."

PATRIOTISM MOST ESSENTIAL.

At the outset he reiterated the grounds he had covered in his last speech and said that patriotism was most essential for the upheaval of the nation. He said that patriotism was the virtue which was capable of development by every people. English, American and the French people had cultivated it. France had lost heavily and disastrously in 1870, but when they were imbued with the spirit of patriotism, it showed its martial spirit during the last year.

In the tenth century the Indian Empire extended from Kabul to Cape Comorin. Even in the time of Akbar the Indian Empire was consolidated. It was only by the folly of his grandson that the empire was shattered. The Marathas had a rising in the West India and the Sikhs in Punjab and N.-W. Provinces.

We have to establish Swarajya not by words alone but by deeds, not deeds of retaliation but by the fire of that spirit which our forefathers had. "You have to show that spirit of patriotism has been revived which had been never before." He said never before in the history of the world India was so much exposed to foreign attacks than it was to-day.

He then referred to the preamble of the Government of India Act, 1319, in which it was laid down that a Parliamentary Committee after a number of years shall examine and report on the "space and time" India should make onward march towards progress. Until that preamble was set aside he would not be content. How can a Committee of Englishmen, who have not taken the trouble to study the Indian questions sit on judgment on a matter of vital interest to India, whether they (Indians) are fit for Self-Government in their own country or not? "It was for you to show that you were fit for full responsible Government at this moment", he said among cheers and applause. He said the same thing as President of the Indian National Congress in 1918 and many other friends have uttered the same thing over again. He belonged to the school of thought which has conviction that India was fully fit for carrying out "full responsible Government." He asked the audience to imagine what deep and excruciating pain he was feeling when the present Government was not making any response towards full responsible Government. But to gain full responsible Government we had to develop responsibility in ourselves. And to have responsible Government we should have elected representatives who would be responsible to us and to the country. We have to show now that we have developed the sense of responsibility as a nation, It was no longer a question whether we will get Swarajya or full responsible Self-Government or not. It was ours. No power can keep it from us except the power that was within us. If we do our duty there was no power that can deter us from our reasonable and natural desire. The question was how we are going to develop this sense of responsibility? Also we have to develop this trait to the extent which will compare favourably with other nations of the world. We should show responsibility and reliability which a Japanese workman or a soldier shows or which a British or American workman or a soldier show. They were all imbued with the spirit of patriotism. They thought that sooner or later for every man upon this earth death must come, but once and they feel that they would not die better than by upholding the honour of their Motherland which gave them birth. To gain this spirit of patriotism he said we must be prepared to sacrifice our personal interests. This is the rock bed of our existence. We should be part and parcel of our body and soul. When this sentiment was established then nothing can check us in getting full responsible Government. (Applause.)

PART OF WOMAN.

Then as citizens we must realize our duty to support the Government which we might have established in the country. When we become citizens of a free Empire—which we may become even at this moment if we desire—we must be prepared to support law and order in order that progress may be possible and justice may be done between man and man. But in this the help of women was as much necessary as that of men. He suggested that women too as well as men should be armed with pistols so that they can fire in their self-defence. Women had shakti, the goddess of prowess and if they continued to be helpless then there was no hope for the country. To get Swaraljya men and women of India had to take care of their bodies. He (speaker) had visited a school that morning and to his great regret he found the girls physically too weak.

MUNICIPAL CORPORATION.

EXTENSION OF TERM.

RESOLUTION NEGATIVED.

A special meeting of the Municipal Corporation was called on Friday to ask the Government to extend the term of the present Corporation until the franchise was widened and the constitution was settled. There was a long and heated discussion extending over two hours and in the end the proposal was negatived by the President's casting vote. Dr. Velkar said that the present Corporation did not have the confidence of the people and that it could not be called the people's Corporation. None of the other members controverted this point. On the other hand the supporters of the resolution said that the Home Rulers who promised to bring new heaven and new earth had not done their duty but run away from the Corporation at the very first opportunity.

Dr. K. E. Dadachanji moved: That in view of the fact that it would not be possible to hold the next election of Municipal Councillors according to the proposed extended franchise, as the necessary legislative action to give effect thereto has been delayed, the President be requested to represent to Government to consider the desirability of taking steps for extending the period of the existence of the present Corporation, pending the settlement of the constitution of the Corporation according to the extended franchise.

Dr. Dadachanji said he would like to be the first to come forward to be elected under the extended franchise, but it would take more than a year to bring the new constitution into existence. First of all Government had not yet decided whether they should have a Rs. 20 or Rs. 10 franchise; they had their to redistribute the seats. Then again they had to prepare new roll as the old one was not satisfactory.

Mr. S. C. Dhondy seconded.

DR. VELKAR'S OPPOSITION.

Dr. M. B. Velkar opposing the resolution said they would not be well advised in accepting the resolution. Rightly or wrongly there was a feeling that they wanted to stick to their positions and for the sake of the dignity and decorum of the Corporation they should not accept the resolution. If the roll was not prepared it was for the Government to say so. There was another strong reason for opposing the resolution. In the deliberate opinion of the citizens the Corporation had ceased to represent them. It had ceased to be called the proples' corporation and they should not exist for a single week more than was absolutely necessary. In the Tramway and gas strikes the people had been ignored when the people were suffering through pitch darkness, they were also ignored when they were suffering all the inconveniences from the Tramway strike and nothing was done. The Corporation was not the people's Corporation, but it was the Corporation of land lords and the rich people. In voting addresses to the Duke of Connaught and Lord Reading they had gone against the wishes of the people. He insisted that the members did not represent the people and the latter had already said that many a time. The position taken up by the Corporation on the franchise was not the proper one. He did not think the Corporation should exist one moment longer than was absolutely necessary.

BETTER EXPEDITE THE REFORMS.

Mr. Jamnadas Dwarkadas associated himself with Dr. Velkar, but not for the reasons he had given. He appreciated what Dr. Dadachanji had said. He did not think it could be the opinion of any member of the Corporation that because he wanted to prolong his life as a member he was standing in the way of new elections. They should not pass the resolution. It should have been their privilege to bring forward a resolution calling upon the Government not to delay in bringing into force the new constitution. It could not be denied that there was a feeling in the public mind and also among a section of the Press and the members of the Government that this was not the opportune time to bring into existence a constitution which was certainly very democratic and that the right if vested in the people, when they were passing through a crisis, would not be properly used. There was that fear, but it would be a great mistake if that fear prevented them from doing their duty now. Under the new constitution the people might, perhaps, elect representatives who were not fit according to the Corporation's light to carry on the affairs of the city, but in spite of that they must go on with the new elections. They had to look to the interests of the city and the interests of the city demanded that the reforms should not be delayed for a moment longer. He should like to have moved a resolution calling upon Government to expedite matters, but he regretted it was not possible to do so.

PREACHING HOMILY WOULD NOT DO.

Mr. Cowasji Jehangir opposed the resolution. He said they had read a very powerful leader in one of the English powers that morning, but he was not opposing on account of that. He thought it was an altogether wrong move, and if the signatories had proper time to consider over the matter they would have withdrawn their signatures. Even Dr. Dadachanji had signed the requisition unwillingly and so had become a martyr to the cause. He appealed to him to withdraw the resolution now, as it was the wrong time to have brought forward such a resolution. He scouted the idea that they wanted to prolong their life because they were afraid of new elections. If the election roll could not be prepared properly Government would then be compelled to prolong their existence. They were liable to be misunderstood if they took the step themselves. As for Dr.. Velkar's remarks that they had not done much for putting the roads rights, he said they were doing their best in the matter, but he would ask him what he himself had done for improving the roads. What had he and his friends done during the last two years in that direction? Some of them had resigned..

Mr. V. A. Dabholkar: What about Mr. Jamnadas?

Mr. Cowasji: I shall leave Mr. Jamnadas alone now.

The President: Please don't go into personalities.

Mr. Cowasji said that was a point gone into by Dr. Velker and he had pointed out in return that instead of preaching a homily he should put his shoulders to the wheel and that it did not become him to preach a homily. About the strikes, he sympathised with Dr. Velker. Mr. Cowasji maintained that they were all voting according to their consciences and not according to the opinions of the so-called leaders of Bombay. While he wanted the Corporation to listen to the grievances of public he did not wish them to follow them blindly.

CORPORATION IN WRONG BOX.

Dr. A. Viegas opposed the resolution. The present movement placed the Corporation in the wrong box. The Corporation had got nothing to do with the elections; it was the business of the Commissioner to deal with the roll and other matters. Secondly the Corporation were showing an eagerness to extend their terms. He did not think the Corporation should at all have been consulted by Government in regard to the extension of franchise, as nowhere were they so consulted. The Corporation was entitled to express its opinion, but the first move should come from the Government. Any way they had behaved in the matter in a manner which was not worthy of them. He blamed the Corporation for delaying to reply to Government's letter. First there was a delay of more than six months and when the bill was submitted to them they had not replied to Government for more than nine months. If the Corporation had not delayed matters, there would not have been so much trouble.

Mr. V. A. Dabholkar opposed the resolution. He did not think there was any need for the special meeting. If Government refused to listen to their request to extend their time the Corporation would be placed in a peculiar position. Besides, it was for the Commissioner and not for the Corporation to move in the matter. Dr. Viegas had complained that there was a great deal of delay in replying to Government, but then why had not Dr. Viegas drawn the attention of the President to the matter. Only a few days ago the so-called Municipal Reform Association had addressed a letter to Government on this matter. He thought it would not be wise to press the resolution.

Mr. P. J. Marzban supporting the resolution said the present Corporation should hand over their duties to their successors in a proper manner. Therefore, he asked that the term should be extended. He did not think that the people who met at the Shantaram's Chawl were the leaders of the city.

WHAT "THE CHRONICLE" SAID.

Dr. Sukhia supporting the resolution said Mr. Cowasji Jehangir wanted to ignore the Government and so also his "extremist" friend Dr. Velker. He was sorry for calling Dr. Velker an extremist. (Laughter.). If they did not pass the resolution the voters would do what the opponents of the resolution did not wish to be done. They would elect new members for three years and this was what the people who opposed the resolution wanted. "The Chronicle" had told them that the old members were afraid of a new election. He personally was not at all afraid of an election. He was not a "figurehead" and in spite of what the members said he was a popular man. In spite of what Dr. Velker had said he admired him and even Mr. Jamnadas who had partly become a Home Ruler. (Laughter).

Mr. Jamnadas: I was a Home Ruler, but not now.

Dr. Sukhia said Mr. Jamnadas had quite realised that his old position was wrong and so he had given it up. His experience of the Home Rulers was that they had not done much in the Corporation.

Mr. N. M. Joshi said it was difficult for him to understand why the resolution was moved at all. It was difficult for him to know the motives of people who wanted to approach Government to extend their period. It was not the fault of Government, but their own. It was impossible they could run their business properly if they took months to decide about anything. He agreed with Dr. Velker that the Corporation did not represent the people, but only a small class. If the Corporation should represent people then the franchise should be wide, and he could not think the motives of the members were unselfish in opposing the extension of the franchise.

Mr. R. D. Hughes said he had signed the requisition as a member of a small not over-intelligent minority so that they could hear all sides of the question.

Mr. S. C. Dhondy supporting said the Home Rulers had not done one thousandth part of the work they were told at the last election they would do. It was mere moonshine to say that the democratic constitution would improve the roads. The Home Rulers had all resigned from the Corporation with the solitary exception of Dr. Velker and also Mr. Jamnadas who, as Dr. Sukhia had said, knew when he was right and when he was wrong.

"ACRIMONIOUS ARTICLE."

The Commissioner said there was an acrimonious article in one of the English papers, but such sort of criticism did not much harm him. If they wanted a democratic Corporation as early as possible then the only course open to them was to accept the resolution. Otherwise, if they went to the polls and a new Corporation were elected that would be for three years and not for one for which period they were now asking the Government to extend their term. They did not know the basis of the franchise and it was impossible to prepare a proper roll in a very short time. The present roll of the provincial council was very defective and preparing the roll took a good deal of time. He therefore thought the Corporation would be well advised in passing the resolution.

Mr. Gulabchand Devchand, Mr. N. V. Mandlik and Dr. Javle all opposed the resolution.

Mr. N. M. Dumasia supporting the resolution said if he had any doubts in his mind they were set at rest by the remarks of the Commissioner. The move ought to have come from Government but the ministers were new and they did not know what to do. If Government had failed to do their duty the Corporation had only two courses open to it: one was to get their existence prolonged for one year by approaching the Government or to go to the polls and have a new Corporation on the old franchise, which they did not want. Did they want to continue for three years or to sit for one more year! He thought the present electoral roll was very defective and he cited many names which had altogether been omitted from the roll.

Mr. B. N. Motiwalla said if they had done their duty they would not have had to make this representation. He opposed the resolution.

Dr. S. S. Batliwalla opposing said they should not incur the odium of asking for their term to be extended.

The resolution was then put to vote and 18 voted for 18 against. The President gave his casting vote against the resolution and declared it lost. A Poll was then demanded and the result of it was that 19 voted for and equal number against. The President again gave his casting vote against the resolution and it was negatived

The Corporation then adjourned.

SCINDIA STEAM NAVIGATION CO.

To The Editor of "The Chronicle."

Sir,—There will be a meeting of the Company to-day. For your information I herein enclose a list of the shareholders who own fully paid up shares the part price of s.s. "Loyalty". It is an approximately correct list and it will speak for itself. The large bulk of the shareholders are poor people whereas those who claim a refund of Rs. 45 are, as you will see, all well-to-do and rich men of the City. Is it not advisable for the Directors and the shareholders to consent the point in dispute to be referred to the decision of the Court, and not to act merely on the opinion of a counsel against the combined wishes of the share holders?—Yours, etc.

SHAREHOLDERS.

To The Editor of "The Chronicle."

Sir,—It gave me great pleasure to read Mr. Daroowala's letter appearing in your issue of date the above company's Ship s.s "Loyalty". Yes, many a shareholder will perhaps rejoice at the notice of an extraordinary general meeting announced to be held on the 20th instant to pass a resolution for reduction of capital of the company whereby the shareholders' liability of Rs. 45 on shares held by them will be extinguished. But let me tell the shareholders that if they go through the subject matter of the resolution deeply they will find that there is a fly in the ointment which the company's management has prepared so intelligently to rub to the wounds of shareholders received in the battlefield of Bombay Share Bazar. The above resolution will no doubt relieve the shareholders but it will at the same time give greater relief to the pockets of the vendors of "Loyalty" who are to receive in cash the balance of Rs. 45 per share on 16,666 fully paid shares issued to them in payment of half the cost of Loyalty as per last balance sheet of the company which is refuted by me and this action, if approved by the shareholders, will deplete the company's funds to the tune of Rs. 7,49,970—will the shareholders agree to this course? In their own interests they should not. The vendors of "Loyalty" are the promoters of the company and they will have surely agreed to receive only half the cost of "Loyalty" in cash and when that is so where comes in the obligation of paying them the balance now proposed to be paid in cash? The company must be made to issue further shares to meet this payment and I am confident all shareholders will bear this point in mind and act accordingly in the coming Extraordinary General Meeting.—Yours, etc.

THE CLERKS' UNION.

To The Editor of "The Chronicle."

Sir,—Will you, through your usual kindness, allow me some space in your valued journal in connection with an important meeting of the Clerks' Union coming off on Sunday next, the 21st instant? I earnestly solicit the presence of all the members at the meeting of the above Union to be held on Sunday 21st instant in view, not only of the importance of the meeting, but also of the pressing urgency of solution of a contingency facing the Union just now. It will be readily acknowledged that the crisis facing us has assumed a grave aspect and unless we, as part of the enlightened section of the city's population, grapple it firmly and with sincerity of purpose, the Union might be exposed to every jeopardy. I hesitate to express my opinion on the working of the Union, but of this much I feel sure, that if all my brethren muster strong at Sunday's meeting; whatever may be the issue of the proposal to be discussed, they will be necessarily roused to a sense of their responsibility of which they have betrayed a lack which amounts to criminality.—Yours, etc.

TASK BEFORE US.

He said the girls of today were to be the mothers of tomorrow and therefore it was necessary that their bodies should be well developed. So long as we were unable to defend our own country we were unfit for Swarajya.

Unfortunately circumstances were so situated that we were not able to exercise the power that we possessed.

Then to maintain law and order we should be ready to pay taxes. But the taxes must be by the will of the people. (Laughter.). The taxes that are imposed now are not in accordance with the will of the people. They are imposed as "infliction". (Laughter.). The representatives that we send to the Council first protest and say "no it is bad" and so on, but later on they say "but the circumstances are such at present that we have to submit." (Laughter.).

He said we could get Swarajya in a day if there was sufficient organization, but in its absence it would require continuous silent work of years. It was the ideal of the English Statesman from the very beginning to prepare India for self-government but later on they adopted a policy which made everybody believe that British rule in India was to be a permanent one. In 1896 when the late Lokmanya Tilak said that Providence had not given 'tamrapatra' to the British Government he was sent to prison, but from it suffering there has cropped up a great awakening.

CIVIL SERVICE.

Coming to the question of Civil Service he said in this as well as in every other branch of the public service the number of Indians was very small. But we must not lose head over these injustices. The chief characteristic of Englishmen was "cool head." Let us appreciate this quality and be cool and calm.

Then, he said, our men are not trained as officers in the army but as mere soldiers. They have been excluded from being officers. Our critics taunt us saying: "You cannot have full and responsible self-government so long as you want British troops to police your frontiers." "I say (the speaker said) if this is the objection then take away your British soldiers and British officers. I will take charge of the country". (Applause.). "If this is the only difficulty then please take away British troops out of India, and India will remain peaceful, contented, and safe, against foreign invasion than it was today." (Applause). This was the question which we had to face in the most solemn manner possible.

IMMEDIATE OR BY STAGES?

The question was whether full responsible Government should be introduced immediately or whether it should come in by progressive stages in course of time He said, perhaps the answer will be "immediately." He said it was difficult for us to get it immediately especially as England had kept India under domination for 150 years. We could get either (1) by force of arms or (2) by negotiations and pressure of public opinion. As far as force was concerned Englishmen were not afraid of bombs and guns. If a few Englishmen are shot down, their countrymen will show their indignation but they will not be cowed down. When Lord Hardinge was most cruelly attacked by a bomb, they (Englishmen) all kept their presence of mind as if nothing had occurred and the first thing Lord Hardinge told Sir G. F. Wilson was—"Wilson no change of policy." Though he was hovering between life and death no arrest was made on mere suspicion. (Applause). This was the lesson which ought to be impressed upon all Governors and administrators. Many bombs were thrown in Bengal but Englishmen were not frightened. But if England once finds that the whole nation was united to have full responsible Government, she will give you at once.

What is the period that they want to give us Swarajya, he asked? Is it 5 years, 10 years or 15 years? We must get them to say this. And when they say this, they must make up their mind to give us. He said if there are 6,000 officers and if they want to give us full responsible Government in 5 years let them reduce every year 1,200 officers and train that much Indian officers. If they want to give us after 10 years or 15 years, let them say so, and reduce British officers proportionately.

If Governments of England and India were honest and really meant to hand over the administration in our hands they must put the responsibility of organizing national defence in charge of an Indian. If this course was adopted it will be like a proclamation that Government has launched a policy which they have promised to fulfil. Let England be the executive head, and the responsibility of organizing the defence and telling the people how much tax is to be paid for the army remain with the Indian Member.

DEFENCE ASSOCIATION.

For this, he said, we should have a National Defence Association in every province, district and taluka and all youths between 18—40 should be given military training. If Afghan, or Persia, or Bolsheviks were to attack us, we would give good account of ourselves, but if two or three European powers conspired to attack us, then we will ask Britain to help us with 50,000 troops, as we helped her in the last war. (Applause.) He said in every college and in every school youths should be trained for military service. If England takes courage and he determined to be just and make up it mind to give us full responsible Government, let her put the organization of defence of India in the hands of an Indian Member.

FINANCE MEMBERS.

He then referred to the Finance Member, who also should be, he said, an Indian. There were many capable Indians, for instance, Sir D. E. Wacha, Mr. Dadiba Dalal and Sir Ebrahim Rahimtoola who could handle portfolio of Indian finance for more satisfactorily than imported or local Englishman.

COMMERCE AND INDUSTRY.

Coming to this question he said that if we had an Indian as Director of Commerce and Industry he would revive many Indian industries and help Indian merchants to develop their business. The policy of an English Director was "Industry in India" (for Europeans) and not "Indian Industry."

CIVIL SERVICE.

He advocated the holding of Civil Service in India. It was not for Indians to go to England, but rather for Englishmen to come to India and compete with Indian students. We should have also fiscal autonomy to regulate our own trade.

Finally, he urged all to sink differences, to be united as our man and show by pressure of public opinion that we were fit for Swarajya.

Votes of thanks to the speaker and Chairman terminated the proceedings.

CONFISCATING RELIGIOUS LITERATURE.

To the Editor of "The Chronicle."

Sir,—Kindly publish the following in your esteemed paper:—

Yesterday was the second occasion when the Central Khilafat Committee office received a visit from a Mahomedan C.I.D. Inspector, Shaik Bahauddin, for doing a sacriligious act of confiscating a book which contained quotations from Holy Quran and which, as a Mussalman, it is his duty to obey rather than to participate in preventing its being read by himself and his co-religionists. On the former occasion, he came to confiscate the copies of the Presidential address in Persian of Siqat-ul-Islam Mirza Abdur Rahim who as a President of the most important Conference of the Shia community held at Lucknow had narrated therein certain facts regarding the treatment of the people of Mesopotamia and the Shia Holy Places at the hands of the British Army of occupation. The Government, instead of openly challenging those facts by according permission to the deputation of the Shia community to proceed to Mesopotamia for an independent investigation into the alleged events, accounts of which have reached India through reliable sources, chose to confiscate the said address and thereby closed the door of proof.

Yesterday copies of Maulana Hussain Ahmed's book entitled "Tark-i-Mawalat and Thana-i-Bhawan" were confiscated and taken away. This book was written by way of rejoinder to the Fatwa of Maulana Ashraf Ali and the writings in the Press of his disciples and the author had conclusively proved the religious doctrine of Tark-i-Mawalat as enjoined by Shariat.

The confiscation of such writings as well as authoritative Fatya of Ulema-i-Hind which bore the seal and signature of about 500 Ulemas hailing from every part of India is an outrage on the religious freedom of the Mussalmans of India.—Yours, etc.,

A REACTIONARY BODY.

To The Editor of "The Chronicle."

Sir,—You deserve the best thanks of the Public for your scathing condemnation of the City Fathers. The scandalous state of the Roads is a standing proof of their utter unworthiness to be the custodians of the health of the city. I would suggest that a monster Public Meeting be convened to express the verdict of the people on this House of Sycophants.—Yours, etc.

MATUNGA RAILWAY WORKSHOPS STRIKE.

To The Editor of "The Chronicle."

Sir,—The Superintendent, Matunga workshops has refuted through the Associated Press certain statements made in the Press regarding the origin of the G. I. P. Railway Matunga workshops strike. The Superintendent states that no complaint was made to him or any of his assistants that the space allowed to the men to pass through the gates was not wide enough. As a matter of fact complaints were made by the men to Mr. Maldonald the Works Manager but he proved adamant and declined to entertain the complaints stating that the width allowed under the new arrangement namely one foot 10 inches was proper. Originally the width of the gates was 5 feet and this was reduced to 22 inches without paying any heed to the inconvenience which would be suffered by nearly 7000 men. The statement therefore that the space allowed to the men to pass through the gates was 2 feet 9 inches is incorrect.—Yours, etc.

F. J. GINWALA,
Vice President,

MR. G. S. MAHAJANI.

Mr. Ganesh Sakharam Mahajani who is proceeding to England today by s.s. Mantua as a Government of India scholar to prosecute his studies in Mathematics has a brilliant University career. Standing second at the Matriculation Examination, Mr. Mahajani secured an easy first class at the Intermediate test winning a keenly contested Sanskrit scholarship. But his success at the B.A. examination standing first class first with Honours in Mathematics eclipsed his previous achievements. Soon after he served as a professor in the Fergusson College to the satisfaction of his colleagues and students and admiration of friends. Like most of the Indian scholars Mr. Mahajani was not indifferent to the college public activities as evidenced by his joining the University Corps of the I.D.F. and taking leading part in college debates. Mr. Mahajani hails from Satara and was throughout his college course a student of the Fergusson College, Poona.

AN OPEN LETTER,

TO THE DIRECTORS OF THE SCINDIA S. N. CO LTD.

Sirs,—For months past you have been evading to answer my various queries regarding the affairs of your company. Complaints in the same strain have appeared in "The Chronicle" from various shareholders. But, you have observed studied silence all along, and this leads me to address you this open letter today, when you are endeavouring to rush through a resolution, which is so favourable to many of you, and so prejudiced to the shareholders.

S. S. "LOYALTY."

Now, I ask you, gentlemen, to tell us plainly the full facts relating to this ship.

(1) Did she not belong to the Empress Line of steamers?

(2) Was she not purchased by Scindia for rupees Twelve lakhs sometime in 1915?

(3) Was she not used by scindia as a Hospital ship during the war?

(4) Was she not fifteen years old, when you bought her in March 1919?

(5) Was not the War over at the time?

(6) Was not tonnage easier, when the vessel was purchased?

(7) Who examined the "Loyalty"?

(8) Who valued her and gave his report?

(9) What was the special charm of the "Loyalty"?

(10) Can any responsible man certify, that the vessel was worth twenty-five lakhs at the time of her purchase?

(11) Can any shipping man assert, that the extensive repairs done on her amounting to Rs. 10 lakhs were proper and justifiable?

(12) Did not the Auditors object to this amount being treated as capital expenditure?

(13) And, Sirs, with all these repairs, has not the "Loyalty" had frequent stoppages and constant repairs?

(14) Was she not worked at a loss for some time?

(15) Were not extensive repairs done to her, even when she had little cargo or passengers offering?

(16) Is she not practically laid up since October last?

(17) Has she not proved a White Elephant,—a positive loss to the poor shareholders.

YOUR GRAVE RESPONSIBILITY.

Need I say, that your responsibility in these matters is really grave?

Will you tell us.

(1) Who was your shipping Adviser, when you purchased the Loyalty?

(2) Were you or your Agents acquainted with the management of ships?

(3) Were they not playing with people's money very lightly?

(4) Were they not running a large company without any expert advice for nearly eighteen months?

(5) Are they not resposible for their gross negligence in this connection?

(6) Are not the promoters of the Company responsible for saddling the shareholders with an unbearable burden in the shape of s.s. "Loyalty"?

(7) And did not the promotors dispose off their shares at high premiums and draw out huge profits at the cost of poor, innocent and haples widows?

(8) And are not many of you members of the old syndicate, that first purchased the "Layalty" and are also promoters of the Scindea S. N. Co?

(9) And are you not inflicting further loss by your proposal to refund to the holders of fully paid shares Rs. 45 per share?

(10) Are you not relieved of the s.s. "Loyalty"? Are you not saved from that heavy burden? Are you not satisfied with the profits on the sale of shares? Are you going to drain the shareholders still further?

(11) What have Sir Dinshaw Wacha, Mr. Lalubhoy Samaldas and Mr. Nerotum Morarjee to say in the matter? Do they expect to appease the shareholders with empty assurances?

THE PALACE LINE.

Why on earth was this line purchased, when "Loyalty" was running at a loss, when shipping arrangements were not concluded with Indian shippers, and when shipping advisers were not available at their head office in Bombay? And, pray, why was money kept back in Bombay, when the exchange was at 2/10? And why should poor shareholders suffer for the neglect of the Agents? The whole management of the Scindia S. N. Co. is no credit to its Agents, much less to you, who have explained away matters instead of mending them. And, I say, Sirs, that if you persist in your attempt to fatten the fully paid shareholders at the expense of those already drained, you will regret it very much; for your shareholders are getting very bitter, and are determined to rake up the whole matter, if they are outvoted. Can you, Sirs, conscientiously move and support a resolution, which is in contravention of all canons of justice, after all that some promoters have done to enrich themselves at the expense of poor shareholders? Pray, reflect and act with equity—Yours, etc.

EXPORT OF OILSEEDS.

TO THE EDITOR OF "THE CHRONICLE."

Sir,—Six resolutions stand in the name of Mr. M. K. Reddi Garu in the ensuing Legislative Assembly meetings. One of these is the prohibition of the Export of manures; and the second is the levying of 10 p.c. ad valorem duty on all kinds of oilseeds exported out of India.

In this connection he deserves the thanks from the hand of his countrymen. It is also earnestly hoped that he will try his level best to get it passed.

As one interested in Oil and allied industries for a long time and also of manure having my own oil mills and manure works, started and managed by myself, I humbly beg to suggest that this resolution namely 10 p.c. ad valorem duty on the export of oilseeds would not be sufficient to serve the purpose for which it is proposed. If the object of this is to encourage the oil pressing industry and discourage the export of oilseeds; and thus build up oil and allied industries in our own country and export oilcake, soaps, candles, paints, varnishes, Lenoleum cloth, butter substitutes, tc., to foreign countries instead of oilseeds as has been the case for so many years. Naturally by so doing the profit of manufacturing and selling these finished articles will be retained in the country. This will also create heaps of room for educated young men who are at present wasting their life and intelligence in doing the work of mere clerks and also employment to many thousands of starving and semi-starving men. This huge profit is going straight into the pockets of the people of other countries principally because the Government are not doing anything in the way of protecting these industries; and thus create facilities for the development of oil and allied industries or the manufacture of the above named articles.

If this be the object, then I beg to say that 10 per cent. duty will fall too short of the requirements. It should be something like 25 per cent. for the first three years and then 15 per cent. for the subsequent five years. After that period it may be reduced to 10 per cent. till it is found out that these industries can stand on their own legs. Similarly some heavy duty must also be levied on the importation of articles made from oils or in which oil is the chief ingredient which are named elsewhere. This duty must not be less than 50 p.c. But exporting these articles from our country should be duty free. If this be done as indicated above it would work like a magic wand. Within the course of 10 years that there would be a net work of these industries all over our country for the simple reason that our country grows a varieties of oil seeds on such a large scale that no one country or two or three countries put together grow so much. What nature has given our country—our Government is refusing to give its people. Now as to other defects which are always levelled at us by outsiders, that Indian climate is not well suited—there are no experts—no business qualities—no enterprising spirit—no business ways and so forth are in my humble opinion, the charges of interested parties My only reply to them is that—Did God drop all these qualities on those who at present boast of them. They were developed out of necessity. Similarly they will have to be cultivated by you out of necessity. Never will they be cultivated by simple criticism. In the absence of opportunities it is very difficult to do so. Perhaps they will be learnt with some mistakes. In short I must state that I cannot have any patience with those who are simply arguing against this but never help to favour their cultivation.

Now I beg to show by facts and figures collected from Government publications how much our country is impoverished every year even in one item namely, oilseeds.

Leaving the exceptional years from 1916 1919 of the war time is something like Rs. 25,67,54,000, average about 25000000 tons of seeds. It is very easy to imagine how great the oil pressing industry would be if so many tons of seeds of so much value were to be crushed in the country. There would be so much opening of so many young men of India who are wasting their lives on quill driving, enriching the people of other countries and consequently impoverishing their own which grows so much oilseeds.

Now I shall place before my countrymen and the benevolent Government which hammer upon our brain that it exists for the good of India and not for the good of England much less for the good of other countries; the importation of the articles manufactured out of oils their value are:—

(1) Soaps.
(2) Paints.
(3) Oil Cloth.

Re. Manures:—Our country produces four kinds of manures. They are farm yard manure, fish manures, oilcake manures and bone manures. No doubt ours is primarily an agricultural country and manures must be retained in the country in order to manure its soil and thus efforts should be made to grow more than what is grown to-day. But our experience of the agricultural conditions, the ignorance of our agriculturists the nature of the soil water supply or rainfall and climate show us all the manures available in our country and will be available when the oilseeds are to be crushed in the country will be too much for the country to consume. It will be going to waste or our people will be losing more than what they would gain by arranging the legislation of our country in such a way as to retain the manures in the country. Therefore I am of opinion that no export duty to be levied on the export of manures especially oilcake. To do so would also mean a bar in the progress of oil crushing industry. All I would suggest is to arrange legislation in order to take care of this.

In short, all I say is to get the oilseeds crushed in the country. Let oils, oilcakes, paints, varnishes, soaps, candles, and manures be exported rather than oilseeds.—Yours, etc.

As each week progressed, the disease that could not at all be controlled before, began to abate with the result that I was completely cured at the end of the course in such a marvellous way that I can very well say that Dr. Iyengar is not a Diabetes Specialist in name, but a Specialist INDEED IN REALITY. My S. P. Gr. was 1038 in the beginning of the course came down to 1015 at the end and grains of Sugar per ounce of Urine fell down from 24 to 'NIL', while dediments were not at all visible."

DACCA UNIVERSITY COURT.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
CALCUTTA, Aug 18.

At the inauguration of the Dacca University Court, Lord Ronaldshay referring to the various criticisms, reminded the audience that the University was never intended to be a purely denominational institution, but pointed out that both in the Court and in the Executive Council special provision had been made for securing to Mahomedans an adequate share of control over the destinies of the University. His Excellency added that in the University Sanskrit studies should find a place side by side with Islamic studies and an important place was to be assigned to sciences.

Another serious case of a train wrecking occurred on the night of the 17th August at mile 4-20 between Paharta[illegible] and Fouzdarhat station on the Assam Bengal Raiway. Rails were removed. The engine of the up mixed train capsized along with three third-class compartments and one composite compartment. One Indian passenger was killed two injured. ASTHMA

RADICAL AND SURE CURE.

OF 24 YEARS FAME ALL OVER THE WORLD.

The "Amrita Bazar Patrika," Sunday, July 2, 1899.

ASTHMA CURE

TO THE EDITOR,

Sir,—It will be glad tidings to Asthma patients to hear that they can obtain immunity from their terrible sufferings by trying a simple asthma cure which has come to my knowledge. Babu J. P. Ray is a discoverer of this specific. He is a charitable man and distributes medicine "gratis." A good many persons afflicted with this fell disease in Benares have been radically cured by using his medicine. There are a good many prescriptions which give relief from Asthma temporarily, but there is perhaps no recognised medicine which cures it. The suffering world should, therefore, hail with delight the appearance of a medicine of this kind, Babu J. P. Ray has got a pamphlet printed which gives a description of his treatment and the names of men who have benefited by its use and where it is available to the public. This is a marvellous remedy and I would strongly recommend the sufferers from Asthma to make application to the Babu at Durga Kund Road. Benares City.

Correspondent S. M. L.

NOTE—J. P. Ray is alive. This is the best time for taking the specific.

Present address:—

Expectant and Nursing Mothers

find in Glaxo a most valuable aid, for, taken regularly two or three times a day by the mother herself (both before and after the birth of her baby), Glaxo not only maintains the Mother's own strength without taxing her digestion, but also enriches and increases the flow of breast milk. This is because milk makes milk, and Glaxo is the nourishing solids of the finest cow's milk, suitably modified and made germ-free and comfortably digestible by the Glaxo Process.

Should the breast milk fail from any cause, or not nourish Baby satisfactorily, Glaxo can be given to Baby in turn with the breast or as the sole food from birth, for it contains everything to nourish Baby and nothing to cause him harm

For ECZEMA, BAD LEG & RINGWORM

ZAM-BUK is the most highly concentrated herbal balm known. It is a super-ointment, possessing unparalleled Healing, Soothing and Antiseptic action over all Wounds and Sores. So well-balanced and comprehensive is Zam-Buk that it is able to drive disease absolutely out of the flesh; cleanse unhealthy tissues, and stimulate the growth of new healthy skin. Zam-Buk contains no animal fat; every ingredient has a definite medicinal value. That is why Zam-Buk is most economical and always reliable.

Zam-Buk

ECZEMA.—"For a long time I suffered from very obstinate eczema," writes Mr. S. D. Parekh, of 40, Medow Street, Fort, Bombay. "After being treated in vain by several doctors, I began to use patent ointments. These did no good; some even increased the inflammation and terrible itching. A friend told me to try Zam-Buk, and thanks to its marvellous curative power the inflammation subsided, the irritation ceased, and the eczema absolutely went away.

ULCERS.—"In my opinion, Zam-Buk cannot be too highly esteemed," writes Mg. Kyaw, Zaw of 20, Babu Hakak Lane, Ballygunge P.O., Calcutta. "The way in which it completely cured bad ulcers on my face and back, from which I had suffered for 18 months, was simply marvellous. In fact, Zam-Buk is good for practically every form of skin complaint. Its quick-healing, soothing, and antiseptic properties are unrivalled.

SORE FEET.—Another tribute refers to the widespread Eastern trouble of sore feet. Mr. S. C. Da's, of the S.S.S. Rys', Kalaw, Upper Burma, says:—"I used Zam-Buk upon my sore, perspiring toes, which were very troublesome all the year, and particularly during the rains. The effect was so marvellous that I continued the treatment. Since then, I have had no return of my complaint whatever. "I also found Zam-Buk invaluable for my son's scalp sores."

MAGISTRATE'S INJURIES.—How a District Magistrate benefitted from Zam-Buk is related by Knenwar J. N. Shinghal, B.A., Landlord, N.P., New Hostel, 48/3 Civil Lines, Agra, who writes:—"When my Uncle, a District Magistrate, had a fall on a tramway at Delhi, and was badly injured, he remembered the wonderful powers of Zam-Buk which gave him immediate relief and ease." "I have also found Zam-Buk to possess great healing power, and have myself seen its beneficial effects on different kinds of skin trouble."

RINGWORM.—"I have used Zam-Buk for ringworm, also for cuts, bruises, and skin eruptions, with splendid result. So writes Mr. C. K. Samuel, c/o Mr. A. Perpetuan, B.A. Chengelrowpet, Vizagapatam, "I had innumerable pimples on my face," he adds, "and was so disfigured that I felt ashamed to attend social functions, etc. Happily I was fortunate enough to read about the wonderful curative power of Zam-Buk. Applications of the balm speedily removed the unsightly pimples and, made my skin once more clear and healthy."
